Tyler brings a thorough and detail-oriented approach to resolving challenging cases and navigating regulatory compliance matters at both the state and federal levels.

Tyler is an associate with Saretsky Hart Michaels + Gould PC. He advocates for professionals in the financial services sector and navigates complex commercial litigation issues.

Before joining SHMG, Tyler gained valuable experience as a law clerk in the area of Intellectual Property Law, where he sharpened his skills in legal analysis and strategy.

During law school at Michigan State University, Tyler was a member of the Immigration Law Clinic, where he provided pro bono legal services to families and individuals throughout Michigan. His passion for sports and the law fueled his involvement with the Sports and Entertainment Law Society, where he contributed to advancing the intersection of these fields.

Tyler earned his undergraduate degree in Sociology from York University in Toronto, Canada. His academic achievements are complemented by his commitment to advocacy and client-centered legal representation.

Away from the office, Tyler is an avid sports fan, enjoying time following the Toronto Maple Leafs and Miami Dolphins. In his free time, he loves spending time with family and friends and unwinding on the golf course.
